DETAILED ACTION

The Amendment filed on 12/28/05 in response to the previous Non-Final Office Action (6/28/05) is acknowledged and has been entered.

Claims 1-98 have been cancelled. Claims 99-177 have been added and pending. Claims 114-117, 126-177 have been withdrawn for non-elected invention. Claims 99-113 and 118-123 are under consideration.

The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S.Code not included in this action can be found in the prior Office Action.

The following office action contains NEW GROUNDS of rejection.

Information Disclosure Statement

The information disclosure statement (s) (IDS) submitted on 1/3/06 are/is considered by the examiner and initialed copy of the PTO-1449 is enclosed.

Rejections Withdrawn

All rejections in prior Office action are withdrawn in view of the cancellation of the claims.

The following is a New Ground of rejection

35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph-written description: genus of peptide comprising SEQ ID NO: 1

Claims 99-113 and 118-123 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. In the instant case, the claims are inclusive of a genus of fragments or variants of SEQ ID NO: 1 in the conjugate. However, the written description in this case only sets forth a single polypeptide, CREKA, (SEQ IDNO:1). The claims encompass significant structural dissimilarity and diversity as compared to the CREKA (SEQ ID NO: 1).

Art Unit: 1642

The claims encompass a peptide comprising a CREKA having a length of less than 20, 50, or 100 amino acid residue or a conjugate comprising a therapeutic agent linked to a peptide comprising CREKA (SEQ ID NO:1) . However, the specification on page 73-75 only reasonably conveys one species of homing molecule, a peptide, CREKA (SEQ ID NO:1) in association with collagen binding. A description of a genus may be achieved by means of a recitation of a representative number of species falling within the scope of the genus or by describing structural features common the genus that "constitute a substantial portion of the genus." See University of California v. Eli Lilly and Co., 119 F.3d 1559, 1568, 43 USPQ2d 1398, 1406 (Fed. Cir. 1997): "A description of a genus of cDNAs may be achieved by means of a recitation of a representative number of cDNA, defined by nucleotide sequence, falling within the scope of the genus or of a recitation of structural features common to the members of the genus, which features constitute a substantial portion of the genus."

The court has since clarified that this standard applies to compounds other than cDNAs. See University of Rochester v. G.D. Searle & Co., Inc., ___ F.3d ___, 2004 WL 260813, at *9 (Fed.Cir.Feb. 13, 2004).

The instant specification fails to provide sufficient descriptive information, such as definitive structural or functional features that are common to the genus of homing peptides comprising amino acid CREKA (SEQ IDNO: 1), which have amino acid less than 100, 50, or 20 residue. Thus, one of skill in the art would reasonably conclude that the disclosure fails to provide a representative number of species to describe and enable the genus as broadly claimed.

Vas-Cath Inc. v. Mahurkar, 19USPQ2d 1111, clearly states "applicant must convey with reasonable clarity to those skilled in the art that, as of the filing date sought, he or she was in possession of the invention. The invention is, for purposes of the 'written description' inquiry, whatever is now claimed." (See page 1117.) The specification does not "clearly allow persons of ordinary skill in the art to recognize that [he or she] invented what is claimed." (See Vas-Cath at page 1116). As discussed above, the skilled artisan could not envision the detailed chemical structure(s) of the encompassed genus of a homing peptide having amino acid residue 20, 50, or 100 comprising CREKA peptide (SEQ ID NO:1). Therefore conception is not achieved until reduction to practice has occurred, regardless of the complexity or simplicity of the method of isolation. Adequate written description requires more than a mere statement that it is part of the invention and reference to a potential method of isolating it. The compound itself is required. See Fiers v. Revel, 25 USPQ2d 1601 at 1606 (CAFC 1993) and Amgen Inc. v. Chugai Pharmaceutical Co. Ltd., 18 USPQ2d 1016.

One cannot describe what one has not conceived. See Fiddes v. Baird, 30 USPQ2d 1481 at 1483. In Fiddes, claims directed to mammalian FGF's were found to be unpatentable due to lack of written description for that broad class. The specification provided only the bovine sequence. Therefore, only a CREKA (SEQ ID NO: 1), but not the full breadth of the claims, meets the written description provision of 35 U.S.C. §112, first paragraph. Applicant is reminded that Vas-Cath makes clear that the written description provision of 35 U.S.C. §112 is severable from its enablement provision (see page 1115).

Conclusion

NO claim is allowed.

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
